Setting new standards in instrument pre-cleaning

IN recent tests, using the state-of-the art ProReveal system, new gigazyme foam removed over 70% of the protein residue on instruments before reprocessing. The ProReveal system is 100 times more sensitive than other currently available tests in detecting proteins on instruments.

Containing a unique mixture of enzymes and surfactants to enhance cleaning, gigazyme foam maintains a moist atmosphere around the instrument which prevents blood and other organic materials from drying prior to cleaning.

Compared to soaking instruments in water, gigazyme foam has 10 times the degreasing cleaning power (DCP) against organic soiling on stainless steel. Gigazyme foam does not present a corrosive pitting risk on stainless steel.

Two extractions for the price of one

WINNER of Christie + Co's dental caption competition, Mr Jayendra H. Patel, has decided to award his £100 prize money to Children in Need.

Visitors to BDIA Showcase were challenged to create an amusing caption for the photograph shown, with the prize money donated to a charity of their choice. The winning caption from Mr Patel was: "Now which tooth would you like extracted? We have a promotion this month, two extractions for the price of one!"

Whether you are looking to prepare for a valuation, sell, secure funds for practice acquisition or enhance your existing assets, Christie + Co provides reliable advice and support to guide you through every step of the process.
