

Productnews

Welcome to Endocare

Endocare

Nobody looks forward to a trip to the dentist, specially when they need important work done. According to Endocare, there are more people suffering with odontophobia now than ever before.

Something to smile about

Endocare makes sure that every patient leaves them with something to smile about. It prides itself on providing a comfortable, relaxing and stress-free patient experience and its staff will always go the extra mile to put patients at ease.

The endodontic referral facility uses the latest technology and its dentists are all leading specialists in its field, so dental professionals can be sure patients will receive the highest possible levels of treatment and care.

When looking for a referral solution that ticks all the boxes, turn to Endocare and give patients something to smile about.

020 7224 0999

www.endocare.co.uk

EndoCare

Getting to the root of dental pain

Simplify your practice management

Carestream Dental

Carestream Dental will be among the leading dental suppliers at the ADI Team Congress (Association of Implantology) this year taking place Thursday 14 - Saturday 16 May.

Discover the CS R4+ practice management software now featuring Springboard as standard. Providing accurate practice performance analysis in real-time data, Springboard will ensure dental professionals know exactly how their business is fairing at any given time.

Making life easy

The clear and straightforward visual display further simplifies the process, establishing successes and areas in need of attention with regards to four key performance indicators (KPIs) – chair occupancy, treatment plan uptake, appointment confirmation and patient re-care.

Carestream Dental will also be demonstrating the popular CS 3500 intraoral scanner with a preview of its new module designed specifically for implant dentistry.

0800 169 9692

www.carestreamdental.co.uk

Carestream

DENTAL

New whitening kit with hydration

Sparkle Dental Laboratories

Sparkle Dental Laboratories has recently launched the new, UK manufactured, professional tooth whitening kit, with everything that dental professionals need to provide successful whitening.

Offer patients a choice of customised tooth whitening with these safe, reliable and convenient whitening kits. Specifically formulated in the UK, they are available in three strengths; 6% HP, 10% CP and 6% CP; all proven, effective and predictable, according to Sparkle Dental Laboratories.

Ideal for sensitive teeth and gingiva

Dehydration can often cause problems for patients undergoing whitening procedures, but due to the high water content of the gels this is prevented. With optimum pH control, maximum whitening is achieved with results visible in less than a week.

Gels include an active sensitivity management formula so patients prone to sensitive teeth and gingiva will also be able to benefit.

Dental professionals no longer need to hold whitening stock in practice as free custom-made bleaching trays are included in these competitively priced kits. Being manufactured in the UK, delivery time is reduced and full product traceability is obtainable.

0800 138 6255

customerservice@sparkledentallabs.com

www.sparkledentallabs.com

When the time comes to sell...

Rodericks Dental

Rodericks encompasses a group of outstanding practices across the UK, each committed to maintaining high standard of dental care, as well as enhancing both business prospects and individual career opportunities.

Following great success in recent years, including recognition by the Zolfo Cooper Growth Company Award 2014 as one of the top 25 healthcare companies with regards to performance growth, the group continues to grow.

Whether dental professionals wish to focus more on the clinical dentistry or they are looking to retire, joining the Rodericks family will bring with it a myriad of benefits.

A seamless transfer

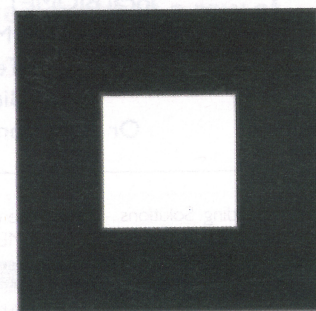

Dentists receive all the help and support needed to prepare business for a seamless transfer.

Dental professionals can rest assured that both patients and staff will be looked after.

The team will gain access to an excellent support team, training opportunities and career prospects in a growing organisation.

So, when the time comes to sell a dental practice, find rodericks limited

out what Rodericks could do. For an informal chat about the options, please call Alpesh Khetia.

01604 602491

info@rodericksdental.co.uk