

Productnews

Exclusive discounted prices

Wrights

Dr Ann-Marie Bard, principal of Cleobury Dental Practice in Kidderminster said: 'we have been working with Jackie Kendrick, a representative of Wrights, for six months now. Jackie and the rest of the team are helpful and accessible, always providing a first class customer service; that's why we now use them in 99% of our consumable and material orders.

'Invaluable to the practice'

'Wrights deliver great deals and provide us with the best value for money. Jackie has delivered excellent one-to-one advice in helping us to set up a time saving monthly ordering list; this enables us to reach the targets within our budget and has been invaluable to the practice.'

'We could not be happier with the service and we would definitely recommend Wrights to other practices.'

For a professional and friendly service and to work with an experienced team, contact Wrights and find out how dental professionals can get next day delivery on top-selling products at exclusive discounted prices.

0800668899

www.wright-cottrell.co.uk

Save teeth, keep patients happy

Endocare

Endocare knows how to offer patients appropriate, successful and beneficial treatment.

Endocare thinks it is vital for dental professionals to promote a healthy lifestyle to help improve overall oral well being.

Its experience and dedication to sharing knowledge and skills means it is always excited to work with new professionals and patients. Its skilled experts are committed to providing the best endodontic treatments available.

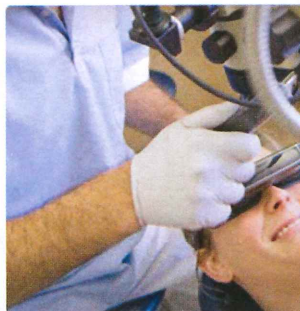

Retain natural teeth for life

Firmly believing it is better for patients to retain their natural teeth for life rather than go through extraction procedures, Endocare encourages the use of endodontic therapies to achieve excellent results. Patients who are referred to Endocare will be offered excellent, first-rate care in its state-of-the-art facilities, where Endocare will do everything it can to save their teeth.

020 7224 0999

www.endocare.co.uk

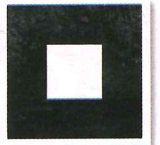

EndoCare
Getting to the root of dental pain

Bypass business bureaucracy

Rodericks

rodericks
newsletter

Dental professionals who run their own dental practice will be no stranger to the growing amount of administration and bureaucracy involved. Running a practice comes with all if not more, of the usual problems associated with managing a business, as well as the added pressure of delivering high quality dentistry to increasingly more demanding patients.

Focus on patient care

By joining Rodericks dental professionals can share these responsibilities and ease the pressures of management and compliance currently placed on their shoulders.

Dental professionals will have peace of mind that all the paperwork is dealt with correctly, while turning their focus back to patients and the delivery of outstanding care and treatment.

Dental professionals will have more time to spend on CPD and advanced clinical training. There are copious educational opportunities available within Rodericks to help dental professionals progress in their career.

To find out how easy it is to alleviate some of the stresses dental professionals face when keeping their business alive, contact the team at Rodericks today.

01604 602491

info@rodericksdental.co.uk

www.rodericksdental.co.uk

Grab an autumn deal on oral healthcare kits

Periproducts

Periproducts is offering a chance to receive a free specialised Ultradex oral healthcare kit (RRP £25) when they purchase any case of either Ultradex toothpaste or oral rinse.

These kits are a great way to market the practice. Offering outstanding value for money, they can be personalised with the practice details and logo at no extra cost. Ultradex can be a significant aid in ensuring long-term oral health benefits and successful treatment outcomes when used as part of an oral healthcare regime.

With excellent patient compliance and performance in eliminating both volatile sulphur compounds (VSC) and oral bacteria, Ultradex bridges the gap between professional and home care.

Kosher and vegan approved

Many dentists and hygienists already incorporate these kits into their treatment plans (from fresh breath/periodontal assessments, to cosmetic/aesthetic procedures or tooth whitening maintenance programmes).

The range is clinically proven technology; Ultradex protects teeth and gums and oxidises organic stains; there's no alcohol; no SLS and no gluten. Ultradex products including; toothpastes, rinses and oral spray are approved by the vegetarian society, registered with the vegan society and have Kosher status. Order a case of Ultradex to receive a free kit, please quote 'special autumn offer'. One kit per practice, while stock lasts) or to discuss requirements.

dental@periproducts.co.uk

"I'M SELLING MY DENTAL PRACTICE. I WANT AN EXPERT TO NAVIGATE THE COMPLEXITY FOR ME."

Steve, dental practice owner, Swansea

Every principal is individual.
We like to treat you that way.

DENTAL
BDIA SHOWCASE
Putting Innovation into practice
22-24 October 2015, NEC Birmingham

To buy or sell a practice, visit christie.com or call 020 7227 0743

Christie+Co
insight | EIGHTY YEARS OF BUSINESS INTELLIGENCE