

Inhalation sedation specialists

TREAT anxious patients, adults and children safely and effectively with inhalation sedation equipment from McKesson.

This long-established company provides a complete range of equipment and services for inhalation sedation. Its British-manufactured MC1 inhalation sedation machine is offered either as a mobile or piped-in system, providing flexible options for all dental environments.

Pleasing nasal masks and convenient circuits are available to suit all patients. Removal of excess medical gas is easily carried out with McKesson's specialist equipment.

Training is provided by SAAD. With its zero per cent interest payment schemes, the purchase of equipment for the technique is affordable for any dental practice. ■

By joining forces with Practice Plan, we signed up over 200 additional patients to our membership plan!”

Grant Bignell : Business Manager, Pontcanna Dental Care

When we switched to Practice Plan, the detailed training we received on our plan and how to promote it left each team member feeling much more confident in communicating the benefits to our patients. What's more, the greater flexibility in plan composition offered meant we could build the plan around our patients' needs, making it a more appealing and logical option for them.

The switch went without a hitch and we were totally supported by our Regional Support Manager and the team at Practice Plan HQ. We couldn't have asked for more!
